

CANDICE STEVENS

Fiscal Benefits Project Manager and Tax Specialist

Candice Stevens is a tax specialist introducing biodiversity tax incentives into the South African Privately Protected Areas Network. Candice manages BirdLife South Africa's Fiscal Benefits Project which is testing the use and applicability of environmental tax incentives to create innovative finance mechanisms to protect biodiversity and ecosystem priority areas. Candice has a background in both law and commerce as well as experience in protected area expansion, biodiversity finance and policy-making on financial incentives.